FYS FACULTY WRITING PROJECT, FALL 2012

An FYC instructor who participates in this pilot program will have a one-semester commitment which will include:

-- Working with the Coordinator of Writing Instruction on the development of a writing assignment or writing project.

-- Meeting during the first or second week of the semester with the Coordinator to discuss issues related to instruction such as response to writing.

-- Attending a 60-90 minute meeting of all participants in the program in October and November 2012.

-- Requiring all students enrolled in the FYS to attend The Writing Workshop at least twice during the semester as the student works on the writing assignment.

-- Attending a meeting of all instructors participating in the pilot program to be held at either the end of the fall 2012 semester.

After the initial meeting(s) with the Coordinator of Writing Instruction to develop a writing assignment or writing project, participants will receive a stipend of $500. After completing the pilot and attending the final meeting, participants will receive an additional $500.

Participation will be limited to 10 faculty.
